Payments, including any advance payments, shall be due on the dates fixed even in the event of delivery postponement by the Customer.
- 6.2 The Customer guarantees that all cost and expenses incurred or taxes applicable in connection with the execution of the order shall be paid without any deduction on the dates or within the payment term specified in the invoice. If no date or payment term is specified in the invoice the Customer agrees to pay in any case within thirty (30) days of issuing of invoice. If the Customer disputes an invoice in good faith it shall provide Jet Aviation with written details of the disputed element within ten (10) days of receipt of the invoice and pay the undisputed part on time. Failure to comply with this Condition shall result in deemed acceptance by the Customer of the correctness of the invoice in question.
- 6.4 If the Customer fails to effect payment(s) at the dates due, Jet Aviation shall be entitled to charge interest from the day on which payments have been due. Unless otherwise agreed, such interest shall be at the rate of one point five percent (1.5%) each accumulating month of delayed payment up to a maximum rate of fifteen percent (15%) per year.

- 6.6 In case of breach of payment, Jet Aviation may suspend the Agreement and stop work if the Customer does not remediate the breach of payment within ten (10) days after notification of work stop. Notification of the work stop by email will be sufficient. Any additional costs (including but not limited to parking) resulting from the stop work shall be charged to Customer. In case the default is not remedied within two (2) weeks after notifying the Customer of work stop, Jet Aviation may terminate the Agreement and Jet Aviation may remove the aircraft from the hangar/tarmac area at Customer's expense and sole risk in which case Jet Aviation shall not be responsible for aircraft preservation.
- 6.7 In case of expiration or termination of the Agreement due to Customer's breach of payment, or for whatever reason, for one or all of the aircraft covered under this Agreement, the Customer shall remain responsible for all charges and claims of Jet Aviation to the Customer for all work and services performed by Jet Aviation pursuant to this Agreement for the aircraft prior to the date of expiration or termination of the Agreement. 7. Work deadlines

- 7.1 Any work and/or redelivery deadlines are estimates and are binding only if expressly designated in writing as such by Jet Aviation. Your slot at the selected Jet Aviation maintenance facility will be reserved with the down payment as per the terms of this Quotation.
- 7.2 Observance of such binding deadlines shall be subject to the Customer having previously met all contractual obligations, in particular the due and timely delivery of the Subject of Order including keys, aircraft papers, etc., any permits, approvals and clarifications, the settlement of technical questions, the remittance of advance payments demanded by Jet Aviation and the prompt fulfilment of the Customer's all other duties under the Agreement. If this is not the case, appropriate deadline postponements shall be specified, or work stoppage may occur.

Deadlines shall also be postponed because of Excusable Delay. Jet Aviation shall not be liable to Customer for any failure to meet its obligations due to any cause beyond Jet Aviation's reasonable control and not occasioned by its fault or negligence including actions or inactions by Customer (an "Excusable Delay"). Excusable Delay events may include but are not limited to: delays or refusals to grant an export license or the suspension or revocation thereof; a late delivery of the aircraft occurring after the scheduled Delivery Date (as defined in the Quotation Summary section); failure to approve or delays in approvals of AWRs; failure to provide or delays in providing instructions or consent, failure to provide or delays in providing any other approvals required under the Quotation or this Agreement; failure or delays in providing Jet Aviation with aircraft data, CFE, information and materials); wars; warlike actions; explosions; regulatory changes; manufacturer changes; governmental acts; delays in the approval process or other actions by the validating authority or other relevant regulatory agency (including the certifying authority); material control regulations or orders; vendor or supplier delays; acts of God; acts of the public enemy; strikes or other labor disputes; epidemics, pandemics and quarantine restrictions. If an Excusable Delay event causes Jet Aviation delay, then the date of Jet Aviation's performance (such as the Delivery Date of the Aircraft) will be extended by the period of such delay. In the event of a slot and/or work scope cancellation by the Customer, Customer shall be liable to pay to Jet Aviation a cancellation fee equal to five percent (5%) of the total amount quoted for the project within ten (10) days of the cancellation notice. In addition, Jet Aviation reserves the right to invoice and Customer agrees to pay for any restock charges incurred and any materials and components ordered to support the project, as well as labour, planning or any other direct costs related to project preparation. For the sake of clarity, if materials or components cannot be returned to their respective vendor(s), Customer will be billed in full for these items.

7.3 The same applies in case that the aircraft replacement parts and ground support equipment or parts have to be delivered by a third party for the work and the party is delayed and purchase of the parts from a different source is not reasonably possible.

7.4 In case such extended deadline is not met for reasons which Jet Aviation is responsible for, the Customer shall have the right to withdraw from the Agreement by written statement after paying full compensation for the work already performed by Jet Aviation. The Customer shall have a claim for damages only in cases where the Customer's losses, damages or expenses result directly from the wilful misconduct or gross negligence of Jet Aviation.

8. Exchange and loaned parts

8.1 Exchange basis: If the Customer is supplied with exchange parts, he shall return the off-core parts to Jet Aviation within ten (10) days of the receipt of such exchange parts. The costs of exchange shall be determined in advance by the manufacturer of the parts or by Jet Aviation. If the expense of repairing the returned off-core parts exceeds the cost of the exchange, the Customer shall be charged with the difference. If for any reason whatsoever the Customer returns a part remitted to him by Jet Aviation without having used it, such part shall only be accepted if serviceable upon arrival at Jet Aviation. The Customer shall in addition be charged with a restocking and certification fee of fifteen (15%) percent of the part's current list price or such charges that a supplier or OEM applies and invoices to Jet Aviation, whichever is higher. If a returned part is found to be defective, the Customer shall be charged with the cost of repairing and recertification. If the part is not repairable, the Customer shall be debited with the full sales price.

8.2 Loan basis: The provisions of Jet Aviation standard loan agreement shall be applicable to loaned parts even in cases in which no such agreement is specifically concluded. Loaned parts shall be returned serviceable in any event. If such is not the case, the repair and recertification costs or, if repairs are not cost-effective, the replacement cost of loaned parts shall be charged to the Customer.

The respective time slot shall be reserved with the down payment as per the terms of the Quotation. Upon delivery of the Subject Order to the Jet Aviation facility, an authorized representative of Jet Aviation will perform a preliminary inspection, acknowledging delivery of the Subject of Order and its condition at the time of delivery. If the actual delivery date of the Subject of Order deviates from the agreed delivery date, Customer will be responsible for all costs incurred. In addition, if the actual delivery date of the Subject of Order occurs after the agreed delivery date, Jet Aviation may delay the scheduled redelivery date by a reasonable number of days representative of the corresponding impact such delay has on Jet Aviation's planning, production, scheduling, and capacity.

- 9.2 The Subject Order shall be redelivered by Jet Aviation Ex Works (Incoterms 2020) at the Jet Aviation facility where such repair or maintenance services have been performed. Shipment of the Subject of Order to the Customer, including temporary storage of the same en route or at destination, shall be entirely at risks and expenses of the Customer.

- 9.4 In case the Subject of Order remains at Jet Aviation because redelivery has not occurred due to work stoppage by Jet Aviation or (ii) the Agreement is terminated by either party, or (iii) deadline stated in section 9.3 has lapsed, and in consequence the aircraft remains parked at Jet Aviation, then it will be the sole responsibility of the Customer to define and formally order to Jet Aviation any preventive or preservative maintenance measures to be applied to the aircraft during such extended grounding period of the aircraft to ensure continuing airworthiness and fitness for use of the aircraft. Jet Aviation hereby expressly excludes any liability for dilapidation of the aircraft during any prolonged grounding period of the aircraft. The Subject of Order will be entirely at Customer's risk, and Jet Aviation will only be liable for destruction/damage to the aircraft arising directly from the wilful misconduct of Jet Aviation. Customer will be responsible for parking charges invoiced at the customary fee for the respective Jet Aviation location during work stop period.
- 9.5 In case Customer fails to advise on performance of maintenance measures per section 9.4, or if Customer does not respond to Jet Aviation request on such measures and if Jet Aviation in its reasonable judgement concludes that certain preventive maintenance actions would be advisable, Customer agrees that Jet Aviation has the right, but not the obligation, to define and perform such actions. Customer will remain fully responsible for the cost of such actions.
- 9.6 The Customer or the operator, shall instruct Jet Aviation before the agreed aircraft input date whether the remaining parts and assemblies, furnishings, personal items and loose equipment shall be (i) returned to the Customer or operator, or (ii) scrapped by Jet Aviation, at the Customer or operator's costs. In the event that prior to redelivery, the Customer or the operator have failed to provide such instruction to Jet Aviation, any such remaining parts and assemblies, furnishings, personal items and loose equipment shall be returned to the Customer or operator and the Customer or operator shall bear all costs related to storage, shipping as well as risk of loss or damage as applicable.

- 10.2 Any resale by the Customer of Goods in which title has not passed to the Customer shall (as between Jet Aviation and the Customer only) be made by the Customer as agent for Jet Aviation and the Customer shall be deemed to be holding any monies received from the resale of such Goods on trust for Jet Aviation.
- 10.3 Jet Aviation's employees and agents shall be entitled to enter any land, buildings, vehicles or aircraft where the Goods or part of them are situated or are reasonably thought to be situated, and may take possession of them at any time, to the extent permissible under the Applicable Law. If the Goods have been fitted to or fixed to an engine or aircraft, the Customer explicitly grants Jet Aviation the right to take possession of them and Jet Aviation's title in the Goods shall not be affected by any stipulation or rule of law that the Goods have become part of an engine or aircraft.

11. Right of lien

In respect of all claims, whether due or not, resulting from contractual relations with its Customers, including claims resulting from prior business relations with the Customer concerned, Jet Aviation shall have, in addition to its legal right of retention, a contractual right of lien on such objects in its possession, independently of the Customer's proprietary rights. The Customer herewith gives its consent and approval to all measures reasonably taken by Jet Aviation to secure its right of lien. The Customer agrees that Jet Aviation has the right to retain the Subject of Order and/or to enforce such right of lien for the purpose of securing any of its claims against the Customer and/or Customer's affiliates, including claims resulting from (i) prior business relations with the Customer concerned, and/or (ii) a business relationship between the Customer and any affiliate which is under the same ultimate control as Jet Aviation. The contractual right of lien shall entitle Jet Aviation and/or any of its affiliates to publicly offer for sale the Subject of Order and/or other items in Jet Aviation's custody no earlier than one (1) month after advising the Customer of its intent to do so. To effect such sale, Jet Aviation shall not be required to obtain an enforceable title or to comply with the regulations governing forced sale.
